ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

FLAGLER IS AMONG TEN GREATEST AMERICANS

Now Living, Is Opinion of Writer in Leslie's Weekly.
His Great Work in Florida.

The recent purchase of J. P. Morgan & Co., the eminent banking firm, of $10,000,000 first-mortgage bonds of the Florida East Coast Railway Company marked the first issue of bonds by this railroad company ever offered to the public, and the appearance of the first dollar of outside investment in an enterprise as remarkable as any ever undertaken by a single individual in the history of railway construction.

A few months ago The New York Herald propounded to its readers the question, "Who are the ten greatest living Americans?" The replies were numerous and interesting—numerous because an answer can be readily given by the average reader without prolonging consideration or trouble.

some research; and interesting because, among other things, of the contrariety of the opinions expressed, since beyond one or two notable names, scarcely any two of the responses agreed as to the persons entitled to the designated honor. In the nature of the case no criterion or standard for "greatness" can be prescribed. While eminently proper that those should be considered who have distinguished themselves in the various professions, in scholarship, or for conspicuous attainment in science, art or letters, the public benefactor (under whatever standard may be employed) would seem to deserve equal consideration with them—"that person being a benefactor of the race," as Dean Swift declared, "who causes

Georgia Solons Red Hot After Vendors of Near-Beer

ATLANTA, Ga., July 31.—The first bill to pass the House of Representatives in the fight on what is known as "near-beer" went through yesterday afternoon by the comfortable margin of 86 to 78. It raises the tax upon the imitation of the amber fluid, which the wise legislators know is not imitation, from $500 a year to $1,000 for manufacturers and from $200 a year to $500 for retailers. Each dealer must also give a $5,000 bond to obey the law. Housewives who make wine for household and medicinal purposes are exempt from the act.

Alexander of DeKalb, the prohibition leader, startled the House by dramatically waving two bottles of a famous brand of Milwaukee's favorite beverage and exclaiming:

"I sent a man to get a St. Louis brand and he went to the most respectable place in this city. The proprietor said he could not let the St.

Louis beer leave the premises, but he did give my agent this stuff which you all know is not near-beer but is the real stuff. And we cannot stop the sale under the court's decision that a drink to be intoxicating must contain 4 per cent of alcohol. But we can tax them and if this measure be killed it will die in the house of its friends."

Alexander made a strong appeal to the friends of temperance to rally to the cause and he won on the vote. There was no effort made to filibuster. The bill will have to pass the Senate before it becomes a law. It is not thought that the Governor will veto it despite his pledge not to sign any liquor legislation this session, because this measure is only a clause in the general tax bill which must be vetoed or approved as a whole.

The real fight on near-beer will come later, if the dregs can get their stringent anti-alcoholic bill out of committee.

Sea Island Cotton Market Quiet and Firm Past Week

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 31.—The Sea Island cotton market was quiet but firm during the past week, with prices unchanged from the week before. The demand is limited, owing to the lack of offerings.

Crop accounts continue favorable, although there has been a continuance of excessive rains. So far there have been no serious complaints, but it is anticipated that more or less damage will develop later.

Sales for the week were 413 bales. The following prices were based on factors' quotations and are revised weekly on Fridays:

Col. Sidney C. Tapp Dying From Operation in Denver

NORMALITES HAVE PLEASANT EVENING

PRESIDENT MURPHREE OF UNIVERSITY MAKES TALK.

Only One More Week Remains and Most of the Classes Are on Final Review.

From Sunday's Daily Sun:

That was a rich treat given to the Normal students in the High School Auditorium Friday night. Maj. Floyd entertained the body for a while with microscopic views of both minute plant and animal life. He used a powerful stereopticon with which to throw the views upon the screen. The pictures made were excellent, and much interest was manifested.

As a rest to the eyes from the strong light thrown upon the curtain, the school sang, "The Red, White and Blue," after which Miss Mabel Carroll gave a piano solo. Those who had never heard Miss Carroll play were surprised at her ease and skill. She is one of the finest pianists in the State. Her touch is marvelous.

The good things seem to get to be better things. Miss Jessie Miller, in her inimitable manner, held the room spell-bound with her character recitation. She was so roundly enjoyed that she could not refuse to respond.

President Murphree of the University gave the students a fine talk at the chapel exercises Friday morning. He spoke of his impressions of the National Educational Association, of the dignity of the teachers' calling, and of the grand scenery of the West.

But one more week of the Normal remains. Most of the classes are on the final review. The interest in the work increases every day. There are no signs of growing tired.

A number of the students who are taking grade work will go to Dade City with Prof. Carr and continue their studies in the South Florida Normal Institute until the September examination.

two blades of grass to grow where but one grew before."

Therefore, in a comparatively new country like ours, where general prosperity so largely depends upon the development of our national resources and the creation of adequate facilities for their transportation, it would seem obvious that that person is a benefactor of the race whose genius conceives, and whose indomitable courage carries forward to completion, some great and difficult commercial undertaking by which mankind derives a distinct and lasting benefit.

By reason of the magnitude of his achievement in providing a great quasi-public utility, at enormous cost and solely as an individual, without local or Governmental aid, one involving the solution of untold engineering difficulties, and prosecuted through a period of financial disturbance and industrial paralysis unprecedented in our history, Henry M. Flagler unquestionably stands foremost among living Americans in this field of human endeavor. Only an outline of his undertakings can be given within the compass of such an article. This is to be regretted, for although his railroad has been under continuous construction for a score of years (no less than five thousand men being at times employed thereon) the work has nevertheless been so quietly and unostentatiously carried on that even now the public has no just conception of its nature, magnitude, or importance. Comprehension of the stupendous engineering difficulties involved in much of the work has up to this time been confined to professional engineering and scientific bodies, who have closely watched its progress from the beginning, some of whom have been more or less skeptical as to the outcome.

'QUAKE RENDS MEXICO FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

Earth Shocks Raze Towns and Spread Death and Ruin Over Miles of Peopled Land.

MEXICO CITY, July 31.—With Chilpancingo destroyed and Acapulco partly razed and the loss of life problematical, Central Mexico from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Querato on the north to Oaxaca on the south, an area of more than 1,000 square miles, was shaken at an early hour yesterday by a series of the most severe earth shocks felt in the region for the last quarter of a century.

The quake was severe in Mexico City.

Reports telling of the loss of life are meagre, but the official figures thus far given show 14 killed and more than a score mortally injured.

While word came from G. Poyros, an American commercial traveler at Chilpancingo, Guerrero, that that city was destroyed and the inhabitants are living in the open, suffering from the elements, the loss of life is not definitely known. The shocks continued at Chilpancingo last night with subterranean rumblings and flashes of lightning, rain and hail.

Six Dead in Mexico City.

Acapulco, Guerrero, was partly razed but the extent of the damage is known, as communication with part of the republic is not well established.

According to observatory records the first shock was at 4:15 this morning, the oscillations being from east to southwest. It was severe, causing the bells of many cathedrals in Mexico City to toll, breaking crockery, in some instances levelling wells.

The inhabitants of the capital, hardly recovered from the fright of the quake when a second and more severe shock caused an outpouring nearly all the residents to the streets and open places.

This movement was of a twirling character, and lasted with severe for 30 seconds. Tall buildings swayed, and in some instances cr

Streets of Barcelona Ran Deep With Blood

PARIS, July 31.—The Madrid correspondent of The Figaro had an interesting interview with the Spanish Minister of the Interior today, in which the Minister said: "The insurrection at Barcelona was of terrible gravity. I don't know if, since the commune, there has been anything so terrible. The battle in the streets, with cannon, the pilage of convents, the explosion of dynamite, and the destruction of the railroad, nothing was missing."

Georgia Senate Votes to Remove McLendon

ATLANTA, July 31.—The Georgia Senate yesterday voted to remove from office Chairman McLendon of the State Railroad Commission, the vote being 23 to 18. McLendon was recently suspended by former Governor Smith on charges of being too lenient with the railroads, in violation of campaign pledges. The House has yet to act on the removal.

Yesterday's action by the Senate was based on a joint legislative investigation into former Governor Smith's charges. The investigation disclosed that McLendon, while commissioner, had sold Athens, Ga., street railway bonds, making a profit therefrom. McLendon claimed this was not unlawful.

Isn't there something which only want ad. can do for you today?

Mexico May Prove Its Claim to El Paso, Texas

MEXICO CITY, July 31.—At the Mexico State department last night it was said that an old map had been discovered which showed that the present site of the city of El Paso was on Mexican soil. Senior Beltran Y. Puga is now in Washington conferring with Anson Mills, a member of sion, over the matter. Minister Foreign Affairs Mariscal says that Mexican claims are based on apparently a solid basis. The matter has been pending for some time and will be settled during the present year. The element will be an amicable whichever way the decision goes, according to the Mexican State de

DOCTOR IS SURROUNDED BY CORDON OF RATTLERS

THRILLING EXPERIENCE OF A KENTUCKY PHYSICIAN.

Was Held a Prisoner by Angry Snakes in Dead Hours of the Night.

Held a prisoner by a cordon of angry rattlesnakes, far from any habitation, with only a pocket lantern to reveal his surroundings in the depths of what is known as the Black Forest, Dr. W. E. Delaney of State Run believed that his last hour had come, and that he was about to die a miserable death in a grewsome spot. A happy thought saved his life. There was a bottle of chloroform in his medicine chest.

The thought was put into action, every snake was put to sleep, and the victorious doctor pursued his way in peace and triumph.

Dr. Delaney is often called at night to go into what is known as the Black Forest region, where Weed & Co. have several large lumber camps. The doctor owns a velocipede truck, which he rides over a little narrow gauge railroad used to haul logs out of the woods. He can ride within two miles of camp, these last two miles being covered on foot by way of a zigzag path through the woods.

He always carries a small lantern, which, when he rides his velocipede car, he hangs on the front as a headlight. One night he received a telephone message to come to the forest to attend a woodman who was very ill. It was almost midnight when he left home. The moon shone brightly and he did not light the lantern. At the end of the run, however, where he left the car, he detached the lantern and carried it in his hand, thinking he might need it to light his way back.

In the other hand he carried a medicine case, which contained, among other things, a pint bottle of chloroform.

At a point along the way the path runs through a small clearing, where once the stable of a lumber camp stood. This is now green over with a crop of grass nearly a foot high.

Dr. Delaney had just stepped into this grass-covered clearing when he was startled by a sharp, unmistakable sound of a snake's rattle at his feet. Involuntarily he leaped forward, landing almost in the center of the grass plot, when to his horror and dismay he heard a chorus of rattles. The sounds seemed to come from all sides of him. He dared not move lest he step on the venomous snakes and to stand still seemed almost as perilous.

He lighted his lantern, that he might see where to step, but the sudden glare of the lamp had a most startling effect upon the snakes. Lifting the lantern above his head, so that its rays be cast in a radius covering the grass-plot, the doctor beheld a sight that made his blood run cold. He found himself practically hemmed in by snakes. He saw no less than a dozen of the serpents, and every one of them had risen to a height so that their heads were from six to ten inches above the top of the grass. The light from the lantern had evidently caused the rattlers to take this position, but the chorus of rattling that was kept up constantly made the shivers run down the doctor's spine. Turn in any direction he might he found himself confronted with the ugly head of one of these venomous creatures, each one ready to strike at an approaching foe. Some of the snakes were within four or five feet of him, but none appeared to move, except as they swayed their heads in a rhythmic movement that set the doctor's hair awheel.

He dared not move lest one of the snakes sink its deadly fangs into his

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Gainesville Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow;

Urinary trouble, diabetes.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

Gainesville people endorse our claim.

Mrs. V. E. Spence, 201 W. Arlington street, Gainesville, Fla., says: "It would be hard to describe how I suffered from a weak and aching back. At times the pains were so intense that I could not get up or down. I was also troubled by rheumatism and different parts of my body became stiff and lame. A friend finally advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procuring a box, I began their use. I am glad to say that they lived up to representations, removing the pains and disposing of the rheumatism. I can honestly say that Doan's Kidney Pills did me more good than any medicine I had previously taken."

body, yet he found himself growing sick and faint from a nauseating odor that arose from the ugly reptiles.

The snakes, evidently drawn to the clearing from the woods, had collected there for a nocturnal siesta, and it was his luck to walk into this charmed circle and become a prisoner, much as the fly becomes a prisoner in the spider's web.

But a bright thought struck him. He had no weapon with which to fight his way out, but, lying within reach of him, half concealed in the grass, was a piece of bark, probably three feet long. He knew of the effect of chloroform on breathing things, and he determined to outfit the deadly rattlers. Wrapping a handkerchief as best he could about one end of the bark, while he still held aloft the beacon light, he saturated the cloth with chloroform from his bottle. Then cautiously poking the bark at the heads of the rearing snakes, one after another, again and again—occasionally renewing the saturation—he finally had the satisfaction of seeing the snakes slowly and drowsily descend into the grass.

The rattling, which had lessened from a shrill whizz to a lazy buzz, finally stopped altogether, and inside of ten minutes the doctor had conquered the whole cordon of reptiles. He then escaped unharmed from their midst, and proceeded to the camp.

From there three men with torches were sent back to the grass patch to dispatch the snakes. They found the reptiles in a half-dormant condition. When they had cleaned up the bunch they had just sixteen rattlesnakes, among the number two of the yellow variety, each of which measured over five feet in length.—Bardstown (Ky.) Standard.

Take Notice.

All persons are recommended to take Foley's Kidney Remedy for backache, rheumatism, and kidney and bladder trouble. It will quickly correct urinary irregularities, which, if neglected, may develop into a serious illness. It will restore health and strength. Do not neglect signs of kidney or bladder trouble and risk Bright's disease or diabetes. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Notice.

Take notice that I will, on the first Thursday of September, A. D., 1909, or as soon thereafter as I may be heard, apply for a pardon for John L. Easterlin, who was convicted of murder at the fall term of the Circuit Court for Alachua county, Florida, in 1902. Anyone desiring may then be heard on the merits of the application. WILLIAM C. HODGES, Attorney for Petitioner.

McCOLLUM SECURES MANAGEMENT BAIRD

WILL COMMENCE THE BOOKING OF COMPANIES AT ONCE.

Believes That High-Class Companies
Will Be Patronized by People of Gainesville.

Dr. J. W. McCollum has accepted the position of manager for the New Baird Opera House and will have charge of the large place for the next twelve months at least.

In speaking about the new change Dr. McCollum said: "It is a business that I am not in any way acquainted with, but I will at once proceed to learn something and commence the booking of first-class companies."

"I will take a trip over to Jacksonville and get in touch with some of the companies through Mr. Burbridge, besides I suppose that I will be enabled to secure some, if not all, of the bookings that former Manager Kalbfeld had for the coming season."

"Not having secured any attraction, it will be impossible for me to state the time of opening for the new place, but I hope to have the good shows coming our way by the middle of October, which I believe is about the usual time."

"I expect to spare no pains in trying to secure the very best for the amusement-loving public of Gainesville, and with the large and commodious opera house we now have it does seem that we will be enabled to get good, first-class companies here as well as elsewhere. A little later on I will be pleased to show you the attractions booked, and with the full support of all of the Gainesville citizens behind me I am sure of the opinion that the house will be made a paying feature for the owner, besides something for the citizens to talk about and feel proud that they live where such a play house can be had and good amusements secured."

The citizens generally will hail with pleasure the announcement that Dr. McCollum has secured the management, in that it had to be changed, for he being largely identified with Gainesville and her interests they will feel satisfied that their every interest will be guarded.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." J. W. McCollum & Co.

SANFORD TAKES THE FIRST OF THE SERIES

HINES WILL DO THE PITCHING IN TODAY'S GAME.

The Visitors Will Have the Left-handed Smith From Georgia On the Mound Today.

From Friday's Daily Sun:

Gainesville 9, Sanford 1, with eleven innings to decide it.

That was the way it stood at the ball park on Thursday afternoon, when the largest and most enthusiastic crowd of the season visited the park to see the great contest between these two fast clubs.

While the home boys outclassed the visitors in their playing, they still have the "hoodoo" on them that caused the loss of the game in the eleventh by two errors, but this was unavoidable, and no kicks are coming from the Gainesville rooters.

The Sanford set are a clever lot of boys and know just how to play the game, as was fully evidenced in the contest Thursday, which was one of the very best games that will be seen on the home diamond the entire season.

All you rooters had better fall in line today, for Sanford will have Smith of Atlanta here to do the firing for them, while Gainesville will have the mound filled with Hines, who has on several occasions demonstrated that he can deliver the goods.

Several times during the game Gainesville had men on bases, but the necessary hit was not forthcoming to bring them home. In the tenth inning two Oak Halls were on bases and one out, when Graham tried to pilfer third but was caught, and Hendricks was tagged out trying to swipe second. This spoiled the best chance of the Oak Halls winning.

Watson proved himself superior to "Beef Trust" Bridges in the box, only allowing the visitors one hit. The locals touched Bridges up for six safe bingles, one a two-bagger by Miller.

The Game Explained.

FIRST INNING—Miller struck out; Allen out, short to first; Graham out, third to first.

Vibbert walked and swiped second; Jones fanned; White popped out to left; Vibbert stole third; Hudson out, Allen to Miller.

SECOND INNING—Bullock out, short to first; Hendricks same; Denton fouled out.

Morris fanned; Swan hit to third, out at first; Fox fanned.

THIRD INNING—Taylor bunted and was thrown out at first; Spottswood singled to left; Watson fanned; Miller singled to left; Allen out, pitcher to first. Spottswood and Miller died on bases.

Burleson fouled out; Bridges fanned; Vibbert skied out to right.

FOURTH INNING—Graham out on a fly to center; Bullock skied out to left; Hendricks followed suit.

Jones fouled out; White fanned; Hudson got his base on four wide ones, and stole second, a moment later swiping third; Morris skied out to center.

FIFTH INNING—Denton out, third to first; Taylor fanned; Spottswood singled to center, and stole second; Watson fanned.

Swan beat out hit to Hendricks; Fox fanned; Burleson fouled out; Bridges flew out.

SIXTH INNING—Miller skied out to center; Allen flew out to left; Graham got his base on four wide ones; Bullock out on a high one to center.

Vibbert flew out to center; Jones

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver, or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

out, short to first; White walked, but was caught trying to steal second.

SEVENTH INNING—Hendricks out on a fly to center; Denton out, short to first; Taylor singled to center; Spottswood walked; Watson fanned; Hudson popped out to Hendricks; Morris walked; Swan hit by pitched ball, took first; Morris caught off second and had blocks put to him; Fox popped out to Sandy.

Burleson fouled out to Miller; Bridges fanned; Vibbert fouled out.

NINTH INNING—Bullock flew out; Hendricks flew out to left; Denton reached first on error by center fielder who dropped the ball; Taylor fanned.

Jones hit over Spottswood's head in center for two bases; White fanned; Hudson out, second to first; Jones taking third; Morris popped out to Sandy.

TENTH INNING—Spottswood skied out to left; Watson struck out; Miller hit to left-field fence for two bases; Allen out on drive to first.

Swan fouled out; Fox fanned; Burleson out, short to first.

ELEVENTH INNING—Graham flew out to left; Bullock singled to left; Hendricks hit to center, who dropped it. Graham running for Bullock, tried to steal third and was put out; Hendricks out trying to swipe second.

Bridges out on a fly to center; Vibbert flew out to center; Jones hit one to Denton, who dropped it; White hit to Taylor, who fumbled the ball; Jones scoring with the winning run; White out trying to reach third.

Hits—Gainesville 6, Sanford 1; errors, Gainesville 4, Sanford 2; base on balls, off Watson 4, Bridges 2; wild pitch, Bridges 1; two-base hits, Jones and Miller; struck out, by Watson 9, by Bridges 5; hit by pitcher, Swan.

From Saturday's Daily Sun:

Sanford and Gainesville will play a double-header at the park this afternoon, commencing at 2:30, the weather permitting.

Both nines assembled at the park on time Friday afternoon, but owing to the continuous downpour of rain all the forenoon, and the heavy shower that came up promptly at 3:30, it was decided best to call the game until today and give the people a chance to witness the double contest.

Waldo 7, Williston 1.

From Friday's Daily Sun:

The Williston baseball team went to Waldo yesterday, where a rather one-sided game was played in the afternoon, the score being 7 to 1 favor of Waldo. Prewitt and Harvey were the battery for Waldo. This makes the fifth straight game that this team has won.

BEGINNING OF FORESTRY WORK IN UNITED STATES

When did the United States begin the practice of forestry? Few persons can answer this question correctly. Most people are of the opinion that the beginning of forestry in this country was of very recent origin, and that the first step in that direction was taken among the mountains of the far West. Neither fact is correct.

While Washington was serving his first term as President of the United States, a recommendation came to him that the Government ought to buy live oak islands on the coast of Georgia to make sure of a supply of ship timber for war vessels. The idea appears to have originated with Joshua Humphreys, whose official title was "Constructor of the United States Navy," although about the only navy then existing was made up of six ships on paper, and not one stick of timber to build them had yet been cut. The vessels were designed to fight the North African pirates.

Five years after the recommendation was made Congress appropriated money to buy live oak land. Grower and Blackbeard islands on the coast of Georgia were bought for $22,500. They contained 1,950 acres.

Louisiana was bought soon after, and in 1817 the Six Islands, of 19,000 acres, and containing 37,000 live oak trees, were withdrawn from sale, and set apart as a reserve. In 1825, Congress appropriated $10,000 to buy additional live oak land on Santa Rosa Sound, western Florida, and subsequently other Florida timberlands, aggregating 298,224 acres, were reserved.

Up to that time nothing more had been done than to buy or reserve land for the timber growing naturally upon it; but the work was to be carried further upon the Santa Rosa purchase. The plan included planting, protecting, cultivating, and cutting live oak for the navy. The timber was then considered indispensable in building war vessels. Much had been said and written of the danger of exhaustion of supply. Settlers destroyed the timber to clear land, and European nations were buying large quantities for their navies. In response to repeated warnings the Government finally took steps to grow timber for its own use.

Young oaks were planted on the Santa Rosa lands. Difficulty was experienced in inducing young trees to grow. The successful transplanting of the oak is not easy, unless done at the proper time and in the right way. The plantations at Santa Rosa were generally unsuccessful; but large quantities of acorns were planted, and a fair proportion of them grew. But the chief efforts were directed to pruning, training, and caring for the wild trees. Thickets about them were cut away to let in air and light.

What the ultimate success of the forestry work would have been cannot be told. The civil war brought a complete change in war vessels by substituting iron for wood. Forestry work stopped. The timber reserves were neglected. Squatters occupied the land. After a number of years, all the reserves, except some of the Florida land, were opened to settlement.

THE BLACKSTONE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

Established in 1894. The aim of the school is clearly set forth by its motto: "Thorough instruction under positively Christian influences at the lowest possible cost."

The school was established by the Methodist Church, not to make money, but to furnish a place where girls can be given thorough training in body, mind, and heart at a moderate cost. The object has been so fully carried out that as a result: It is to-day, with its faculty of 22, its boarding patronage of 300, and its building and grounds, worth $140,000.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Subscribers to The Sun who are in arrears are urgently requested to make settlement without further delay.

Under the postal regulations we are prohibited from extending credit to subscribers for more than one year, and those who have not paid up to August, 1908, will be dropped from the list of subscribers during the next two weeks. The privilege of mailing the paper to subscribers who are in arrears for over a year is denied by the postal laws, and we have been notified to comply with this provision at once. If you fail to receive The Sun after the middle of July you will therefore know the reason therefor.

Do not wait to come to town to pay your subscription, but send the amount by mail at once. DO IT NOW.

The Georgia Legislature also has a few cranks and fanatics who are making daily spectacles of themselves.

"Crossing" something has always seemed to be a milestone in history. It has been in turn the Rubicon, the Alps, the Delaware and now the English Channel.

The Tampa Times advises the militia companies of that city to disband, and thereby put an end to the continual turmoil and strife among their members.

But for certain inherent patriotic feelings we would be moved to declare that Congress is mostly useful in showing how long apparently intelligent men can take to do an obvious thing.

The prohibitionists who exacted a pledge from Hon. Joseph M. Brown prior to his election as Governor, and then wanted to release him from it in connection with their brand new prohibition bill, seem to have been trying to play the game of "heads I win, tails you lose," says The Savannah News.

We have just received the first announcement of the Law Department of the University of Florida, which is to be opened in Gainesville September 29th. The course of study covers a period of two years of thirty-two weeks each and includes all of the subjects prescribed by the Supreme Court for the bar examination. The annual tuition is $45 and the total minimum cost of one year in the Law School, exclusive of books and laundry, is $165. Those interested can get further information by addressing President Murphree or Dean Farrar, at Gainesville, Florida.

WHAT HIGH TARIFF CANNOT DO.

A tariff was never intended to suppress competition in imports. No party platform, however extreme, has ever dared to advocate absolute exclusion. High protection, regarded in its best aspect, concedes privilege to a more or less limited class in return for special service from those protected. High protection can concede the privilege. One of the things it cannot do is to exact the compensation. It is admitted that by dint of figuring in numerous profits and costs, favored manufacturers have secured more protection than they deserve. Can it always be shown that they have returned their fair contribution to general prosperity, of which high wages would only form a part, some adequate price for the advantages they enjoy?

It is this question which arouses a sense of injustice in the consuming public where it is not directly interested in the favored manufacture. To these, high protection becomes an instrument of oppression, and it is incumbent upon its beneficiaries to show this section of the public what they get in return. If the class made up largely of the liberal professions but including clerical work of all kinds, removed a step from the mere day worker, is not benefited in fees and salaries, the protected classes fail to make out their case.

It is clear also that high tariff, while it certainly stimulates high prices and, to a less extent, high wages, cannot improve the quality of the output. Its tendency, with honorable exceptions, is to deteriorate the quality. If the manufacturer of an article in which he knows he has artificial monopoly has no competition to face, he will advance the price of that commodity until the consumer is forced to resort to substitutes. Failing to make profit on a future advance in price, the manufacturer will strive for his profit in the other direction by gradually reducing the quality of what he supplies. High tariff cannot protect the consumer from this, and the result is that he is coerced into a sacrifice for which again it is difficult to show that he receives an adequate return, especially in the case of the salaried or professional classes already alluded to.

Let it be understood that a sharp difference is drawn here between high protection as a general practice and scientific protection to encourage the growth of young industries in a new country. High protection can help the young industries for a time, but only such industries as must ultimately become strong enough to stand on their own feet. It cannot to any popular advantage keep alive an industry which after being established would die if high protection were removed. In such an industry both capital and labor are being misapplied. If the capitalist knew his proper function he would realize the wisdom of accepting his failure gracefully; while the labor which is maintained in such employment should be a source of profit to a community elsewhere instead of a burden, in the respect of excessive cost for inefficient service.

It is doubtful if high tariff can hold a permanent foreign market, although unquestionably it can stimulate exports at a time of restricted home consumption. Selling to the foreigner at only a fraction of the price charged at home, however, is dangerous for the advocates of unlimited protection, and for this reason they restrict themselves as far as possible to the home market. Where other conditions are equal they cannot long compete in the world's market, as the disappearance from the seas of our mercantile marine shows. There the highest of high protection has failed to put us in a position to compete with our neighbors, and authorities of great weight seriously doubt whether ship subsidies would help the matter.

This country could not now adopt a free trade policy without the most tremendous dislocation to its business. But there are many degrees between that and giving every greedy interest all privileges that it asks.

It begins to look as though The Sun's prediction of two months ago that the rainy season which had then apparently set in would continue well into September will come true. There is more water in the woods and ponds in this section now than there has been for several years.

It is said that the penalties collectible in the cases of the State of Mississippi against the fifty-five insurance companies, under the anti-trust law, should amount to $215,000,000.

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.

Under date of July 23rd the Jacksonville Board of Trade addressed the following letter to the mayors of all towns, boards of county commissioners and to every commercial organization in Florida regarding the raising of funds for the presentation of a silver service to the battleship Florida:

"Dear Sir: At the last session of the Legislature the bill introduced to appropriate $5,000 towards the purchase of a silver service for the battleship Florida failed of passage, and it now behooves us to get to work and collect same by public subscription.

"This Board of Trade, having taken the initiative in this matter, now proposes that we collect from $7,000 to $10,000 by general subscription from all over the State. We think it is a very great compliment that the largest battleship in the American navy is named after our State, and it should be fittingly recognized by having a handsome silver service on which could be traced the beautiful history of Florida, from its early discovery and settlement.

"When the amount is collected it is proposed to have the Governor appoint a representative committee to look after the details, as well as to present the service, in the spring of 1911.

"We respectfully urge upon you the great importance of this matter, and ask for your hearty co-operation by starting subscription lists in your community at once. Make remittance to the Jacksonville Board of Trade, which will act as custodian of the funds and make acknowledgment through the press; and if a sufficient amount cannot be collected, then amounts in hand will be returned to subscribers; but we must not, at the start, acknowledge such a word as failure."

This is an important matter, and Gainesville and Alachua county should contribute liberally towards the purchase of the service. It is the custom of every State to present such a service to the battleship named after the commonwealth, and certainly our own State will not be the only one to fail to show its appreciation of this recognition on the part of the National Government. It is to be regretted that the Legislature failed to make an appropriation for the purchase of this service, but such is the case, and it now behooves the people of Florida to do as individuals what a negligent Legislature failed to do for them. If Mayor Davis will open a subscription list for the purchase of this silver service The Sun will aid him in every way possible.

The Time for Laying-By.

The chief mistake made in laying-by the crops is in allowing the time of the year instead of the condition of the soil and crops to determine when cultivation shall cease.

To save moisture and to keep down the weeds and grass are the objects in cultivation. If the crops are suffering from lack of moisture or from weeds, why stop cultivation as long as the crops are growing?

The man who cultivates with the plow is usually an advocate of laying-by early. Cultivation is expensive, and late in the season usually injures the crops by breaking too many roots. The man who cultivates shallow and cheaply finds it profitable to continue cultivating as long as weeds are troublesome or the crop is suffering from lack of moisture. We know of no other reasons for stopping shallow cultivation, except that the crops have completed their growth, or are free of grass and weeds and have an abundance of moisture.

It may pay to stop deep cultivation before any of the above conditions are reached; or it may pay to cultivate deeply when the destruction of the roots will do less injury than the presence of weeds and grass. It is a matter of methods, and condition of soil and of the crops and not one of the season of the year, nor number of cultivations already given.—Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer.

Judge Bullock's decision declaring unconstitutional the law requiring the county commissioners to pay a reward of fifty dollars for the arrest and conviction of violators of the local option law, will at least do away with the premium on perjury in his circuit. Now let the commissioners of Alachua county refuse to pay any more of these claims, and test the law in this circuit.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OLD.

Oldest Resident Will Soon Celebrate Her Centenary Birthday.

Mrs. Newberry of Waldo will be one hundred years old on the 16th of August, 1909. She is the oldest person in all this section. She has not walked in a dozen years past. She sits in a rocking chair, in which she is moved about the house a good deal of the time usually. She suffers many of the infirmities of old age, but retains her senses remarkably. She has been pious for many years. Her husband died at an advanced age about ten years ago.

One son, Hezekiah, who is about fifty years old, and a daughter, Georgianne, about sixty, have remained faithfully caring for their aged mother throughout all these years, never having married, but choosing rather to devote their lives to her maintenance and care—a fidelity unusual in its degree and its duration, and an object lesson in this day of dishonoring parents.

They have a humble home, have always been able to keep at least the necessities of life and are much respected in all the community. The writer has known them for an average lifetime and numbers them among his friends. They get no pension or other public aid.

It is appropriate that, upon the anniversary of the birthday of this centenarian, there should be some tribute paid her that would make it a glad day for her and her devoted family. It would be genuine charity for those who appreciate the opportunity to replace the home-made bedstead with a new one with comfortable springs, and the rocker that has served many years with a better one to rest herself in.

The writer suggests and requests that anyone who will aid in any sum, however small, to procure these articles, to send same to Mayor L. C. Doane, Waldo, Fla. Acknowledgment of receipts will be made by postal card. Who will be charitable in this case? D. L. BRANNING.

ARCHER NEWS ITEMS.

ARCHER, July 31.—Mrs. Emma Hughes and daughter, Miss Grace, returned this week from a couple of months' visit to relatives in South Florida.

Miss Dorothy Prevatt, a charming young lady from Wekiwa Springs, is visiting Mrs. Edwin Thomas this week.

Quite a crowd witnessed the masquerade skating party at the hall last evening. Mrs. R. T. Heagey, dressed as the "Queen of Hearts," or the "Gipsy Fortune Teller," won the prize, which consists of a week's skating free. George Morper, dressed as a negro washwoman, took the prize among the gentlemen. Altogether it was quite an enjoyable affair.

H. Maddox and son, Chase Dennis, left Wednesday for a short visit to Atlanta. They are expected to arrive home Tuesday.

Mrs. J. E. Crumpton and baby are visiting relatives at Wacahoota.

Judge A. D. Chamblin has moved his drug store up near the depot.

J. E. Wells is doing a nice business in his new store on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Newman returned yesterday from a month's visit to relatives and friends in Tennessee.

Mrs. C. D. Wood, son Howard, and daughter, Miss Lucy, returned this week from a very pleasant outing at Daytona Beach.

Mrs. C. W. Bauknight returned Monday evening from Jacksonville and other points.

The jury in the case of Will Moore, charged with the murder of Scott at Miami, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree, with recommendation to mercy. This was Moore's second trial, the jury in the first trial of the case having failed to agree. Will Moore was reared at Cedar Key, and at one time was "devil" in the old Florida State Journal office, when the editor of The Sun was local editor of that paper. He was an exceptionally bright youth, and we are sorry to learn of his sad fate. We had not heard of him for twenty-five years until we read the account of his first trial at Miami. His aged mother and wife are to be pitied.

Tax the automobile out of existence, said a Georgia legislator, and you kill the greatest road builder in this country. More truth than poetry in that volent remark.

SANFORD TAKES THE SECOND OF SERIES

ALSO TIES FOR THIRD IN FIVE-INNING CONTEST.

Something Will Have to Be Done if We Expect to Capture Some of the Games.

From Sunday's Daily Sun:

Sanford came and conquered two out of three and made a tie out of the third game, which was called at the end of the fifth inning that the visitors might catch a train for their home city.

There is nothing to say, except that the article of baseball that the home boys are now playing is nothing like that being put up by the celery lads. Their fielding was almost errorless, a good, strong infield, and their captain knew well his men, and did not fail to go for them when they needed jacking up for a misplay.

The first game here was lost by errors and poor base running on the part of Gainesville in the tenth and eleventh innings, the second game went to the visitors by errors of Gainesville in Sanford's part of the first inning, but the visitors also made a few errors before this game was over, but nothing like the costly ones of Gainesville.

If the last few games are a sample of the way the boys will play ball, they had better not seek such fast company, and try a few rounds with Waldo, Micanopy, and possibly High Springs, for the latter team beat Newberry last Tuesday 35 to 26.

There are some mighty good players on the Oak Hall team; it's a clever crowd of jolly good fellows, but what the people want is some winning ball. Other cities have raised large sums of money and gone after the best stock to be had, and this is just about what will have to be done here if we expect to count for anything in the final wind-up of the season.

Palatka is coming for two games on Thursday and Friday, also Ocala on August 26th, and unless some changes are made we can all guess the result.

The score by innings: r. h. e.
Oak Halls . . . 0 0 0 3 1 0 0 0—4 3 7
Sanford . . . 3 0 0 0 0 0 3 0—6 7 5

Batteries: Hines and Bullock; Jones and Swan.

Base on balls—Off Jones 1. Hines 1; two-base hits, Morris; struck out, by Hines 5, Jones 8.

THE SECOND GAME.

Sanford . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 1 1

Batteries: Spottswood and Bullock; Jones and Swan.

Base on balls—Off Jones 1; struck out, by Jones 4, by Spottswood 4.

FLAGLER IS AMONG TEN GREATEST AMERICANS

notoriety. Mr. Flagler has not employed himself in proclaiming his plans and purposes from the housetops, or in other spectacular advertising. He has been willing, without envy, that others should stand in the limelight.
Beginning with the bridging of the St. Johns river at Jacksonville, he has proceeded step by step to construct, equip, and put in operation a railroad six hundred miles long, travers-ing the entire East Coast of Florida to its southernmost extremity, penetrating for much of the distance a wild, uninhabited, and inaccessible region. It renders Northern markets available to owners of thousands of acres of land hitherto regarded as worthless. It has created enormous wealth where none existed before, and has led to a marvelous influx of permanent homeseekers and transient winter residents and the upbuilding of prosperous settlements and bustling towns in sections where a solitude prevailed and where for centuries the Seminole and the alligator had undisputed sway and held civilization at bay.

Hitherto, for four months of the year, practically two-thirds of the country's population has shivered with cold throughout our inhospitable Northern latitudes, finding relief therefrom only by fleeing to Southern Europe or the Pacific Coast. Now they are seeking Florida resorts instead and spending their money at home.
Mr. Flagler's enterprises having made accessible an Americal Riviera infinitely larger than that which skirts the Mediterranean, and one which has been made even more seductive and delightful as a winter resort for our people. To accommodate this large transient element, adequate provision had to be made, and at heavy cost, and to that end alone not less than twelve million dollars have been expended on hotels, casinos, golf links, public baths, hospitals, street paving, sewer construction, and other like essentials to health and comfort.

But the most audacious project of Mr. Flagler approaches the road's final stage of completion. Within another twelve months he will have completed and in operation an extension of his East Coast system, a standardized railroad, built out from the mainland, for one hundred and thirty miles, through the waters of the Atlantic Ocean to Key West, by means of a series of massive pier-and-arch viaducts, constructed of re-enforced concrete rising thirty feet above mean water level. The road will link together the keys of islands, some thirty in number, by means of this series of colossal viaducts, some of which are three or four miles in length, and all of them over water varying from three to thirty feet in depth, thereby making Key West the commercial outpost of the country, commanding the entrance to the Gulf of Mexico, bringing Cuba within ninety miles of the great railway system of the continent, and, in effect, projecting our entire railway system hundreds of miles nearer to the Panama Canal than any railway now existing. The advantages which this marvelous ocean highway is destined to afford our commerce with Cuba and the West Indies, as well as with Central and South America, and (on the completion of the Panama Canal) with most of the countries of the Orient, are incalculable.
In time of war, its strategical importance as an army and navy base, and its value as a base of supplies, it would be difficult to exaggerate.

In no other country would such a project ever be thought of even as a national undertaking. Nowhere does history show a parallel to it as an individual enterprise. Only a country's strongest, most resolute men are ever identified with great and difficult physical undertakings of this character. Unless a public benefactor like this is for inscrutable reasons to be excluded from consideration as unworthy of recognition for this honor,
I submit that it is just that Henry M. Flagler's name should be accorded its rightful place in the galaxy of the "ten greatest Americans now living."—John H. Flogg in Leslie's Weekly.

'QUAKE RENDS MEXICO
FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

ed, the pavement opened in places and in the poorer quarters a number of houses collapsed.

So far as can be learned, six lost their lives in Mexico City and environments in this second shock. Two were men of the lower class, the others being three women and a child.
Four now in hospitals cannot recover.
It is said. After the second shock no one ventured in doors again until daybreak.

Disaster Was Predicted.

The large American colony escaped unscathed. They, with the entire native population, remained in the plazas or squares until daylight gave them courage to enter their dwellings.

The peons were terribly frightened.
For days these humble folk have been predicting a disaster, because the snow on the peak of the volcano Popocatepetl, visible from here, has been melting. An old Aztec legend declares that when the snows on this volcano disappear so will the city at its base.

The property damage in Mexico City is slight. Some cathedral walls were cracked and scores of walls were sent to the ground, but the fair part of the capital showed no signs of the shaking. Officers of the observatory attest that Mexico City rests on an old lake bed, the made grounds acting as a spongy, jelly-like mass which neutralized the severity of the shakings.

All electric currents in Mexico City were shut off during the first shock and the city remained in dense darkness save for flashes of lightning. The wailing and praying of the Indians in the public square added to the weirdness of the situation.

When the sun shone the people returned to their homes, but soon a third shock sent them again scurrying to the streets. This was a lighter shock than the first two.

How about a State Baseball League next season? Such a league, composed of Jacksonville, Gainesville, Palatka, Sanford, Orlando, Ocala, Tampa, and other towns should prove self-sustaining financially. Several people in Jacksonville are already interesting themselves in the organization of such a league.

Death of Aged Negro Whose Famous Ride Saved Rome

GADSDEN, Ala., July 30.—John H.
Wisdom, who died near here today at the age of 87 years, won fame in 1865 by a daring all-night ride from Gadsden to Rome, Ga., a distance of sixty-seven miles, which resulted in the capture by the Confederate cavalry leader, Gen. N. B. Forest, of Gen.
Abel D. Straight, and the saving to the Confederates of the foundries and stores at Rome.

Wisdom started from the east shore of the Coosa river shortly after nightfall on his perilous trip, covering distance in less than seven hours using on the trip seven horses arrived at Rome six hours ahead of Gen. Straight and the city was saved for the latter's coming.

Straight and many of his raiding taken prisoners.

The city of Rome presented him with a costly silver service valued at $400 in cash, besides giving a purse of $400 to the woman furnished Wisdom a horse for the last leg of his journey.

Dog As Material Witness

ATLANTA, Ga., July 29.—A spotted white dog is locked up in the Cobb county jail near here with an entry on the police blotter that he is a "material witness" in an assault case and is to remain a prisoner indefinitely.
In the eyes of the law, at least, this imprisonment contains no element of jest, for the life of a negro prisoner depends in part upon the dog. The animal is believed to be the one

HARRY THAW PLEASED AT STATUS OF HIS CASE

Jerome Has Finished Inquisition In Supreme Court.
Will Take Stand in Own Behalf.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 30.—William Travers Jerome, district attorney of New York, prosecutor at both Thaw murder trials, finished his inquisition of Harry K. Thaw in the supreme court at 5:25 o'clock yesterday evening. This ends perhaps the most surprising chapter of the long court procedure in which the young Pittsburger has figured, certainly the most surprising in this latest phase of the case—Thaw's fight to prove himself sane and obtain his release from the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane.

All told, Wednesday and Thursday Harry Thaw faced Mr. Jerome's lightning thrusts for ten hours, in which he held his own at all times.

Today he is in the hands of friends. His attorney, Charles Morschauer, expects to call him this morning. This examination may be as long as Jerome's and after it the district attorney may have a few more questions to ask.

Notwithstanding the mental strain he was under Wednesday and Thursday, Thaw labored far into the night with his attorney in Justice Mills' ante-room, going over the multitude of records used yesterday by Mr. Jerome in his rapid fire of cross-questioning.

Thaw Well Satisfied.

On the whole, Thaw and his attorney are well satisfied with the day's work. Thaw showed even more confidence than he exhibited during the first encounter; in fact, his self-consciousness at one time almost cost him dear when he ventured into a heated passing at arms with the district attorney. But he checked himself when he realized that he had nothing to gain and everything to lose by a show of temper. Except for this squall, the exchange of questions and answers with here and there an occasional sally of wit, progressed smoothly from 1:15 until adjournment. Wednesday Mr. Jerome devoted most of his time to the prisoner's past life. Yesterday he based his questions chiefly on various letters and memorandas, which he produced in reports in numbers. The one he found most useful was a tablet containing twenty-six sheets of foolscap paper on which were pasted a strange variety of newspaper clippings and scraps of manuscript. Thaw identified it as something he had prepared and sent to Delphin M. Delmas, his chief counsel during the first trial, for use in preparing his closing speech to the jury. Some of its contents was strange enough to cause suspicions of the author's sanity, but these bits Thaw invariably explained by saying they were letters written to him and his family by persons whose kind intentions probably were better than their mental balances.

Man of Many Tastes.

Thaw's part of the compilation showed him as a man of many tastes and interests. In it he quoted passages of Scripture, regarding sin against the young and referred to the dragon tales in Percy's Reliques for striking similes regarding Stanford White.

While Thaw was, of course, the central figure at the hearing yesterday, there were two other witnesses. Susan Merrill, the former New York lodging house keeper, and Clifford W. Hartridge, Thaw's former attorney. Mrs. Merrill went further into details regarding Thaw's alleged abuse of young women at her house. She admitted having had dealings also with Stanford White.

Hartridge testified to the truth of parts of her story. He said that the money he turned over to the woman which she said was used to prevent the girls Thaw whipped from making trouble, did not come from Thaw himself. He said that he had received $103,000 from Mrs. William Thaw, but had used a large part of it for "various purposes connected with his employment by the family."

Evelyn Thaw was an interested auditor in court again yesterday, but her husband on the stand ignored her presence. Indications are that the hearing will last at least a week longer.

ROOSEVELT'S DAUGHTER TO GO UP IN A BALOON.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, daughter of former President Roosevelt, has become an enthusiast about aeronautics. Her attendance upon the trials of the Wrights' aeroplane is almost constant, and now, it is said, she is determined to make a flight herself, not in the aeroplane, though it is said she even expressed her willingness for that, but in a balloon.

A. Holland Forbes of New York, acting president of the Aero Club of America, is in Washington and has promised Mrs. Longworth to take her up. Mr. Longworth is said to have accorded his permission, Mr. Forbes having made the promise contingent upon her husband's consent that she undergo the risk that balloon travel involves.

FOUGHT FIVE HOURS WITH HUGE SNAKE.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 30.—Three women who went out early to pick berries on a farm about three miles from Latrobe, were rescued Wednesday by farm hands after having been buried in an abandoned coal mine for five hours, during which time they fought continually with a nest of huge snakes. Two of the women became hysterical on their release and are in a serious condition.

The women are Mrs. Maggie Maley, Mrs. Mary Sarfano and Mrs. Florence Lacey. As they invaded an inviting field of berries, the earth suddenly swallowed them. All three fell about 20 feet through a break in the roof of an abandoned mine into a pool of shallow water.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by all druggists.

Mayor's Court Friday.

In the mayor's court Friday morning Dennis Green and Nancy Doherty each forfeited a $15 bond for disorderly conduct.

Sam Daughtrey, who was charged with a plain drunk, forfeited his cash bond of $5.

When the digestion is all right, the action of the bowels regular, there is a natural craving and relish for food. When this is lacking you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They strengthen the digestive organs, improve the appetite and regulate the bowels. Sold by all druggists.

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

Every pore and gland of the skin is employed in the necessary work of preserving its smooth, even texture, softening and cleansing it, and regulating the temperature of our bodies. This is done by an evaporation through each tiny outlet, which goes on continually day and night. When the blood becomes infected with humors and acids a certain percentage of these impurities also pass off with the natural evaporation, and their sour, fiery nature irritates and inflames the skin, and dries up its natural oils, causing pimples, boils, pustules or some itching rash, or hard, scaly skin affection. S.S.S. cures skin troubles of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. S.S.S. cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its nutritious, red corpuscles, and enriches it in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and diseased by the exuding acid matter, is nourished, soothed and softened by this cooling, healthy stream of blood. S.S.S., the greatest of blood purifiers, expels all foreign matter and surely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum and all other diseases and affections of the skin. It removes pimples, blackheads, and other unsightly blemishes from the skin and assists in restoring a good complexion. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired free to all who write.

Bristol's Wet and Dry Fight In Courts Becomes Unique

BRISTOL, Tenn., July 30.—A unique situation arose yesterday in the Bristol, Va., local option election contest. Bud Detheridge, who was active in the campaign for the wets, and who is believed to possess all the secrets, touching how and where money was spent to influence the election, declined to cross the State line into Virginia, in order that summons might be served on him. Counsel for the dries adjourned the sitting at the Virginia court house, and came to the court house in Tennessee, having Detheridge summoned there. By this turn they hoped to catch Detheridge in their drag-net. Counsel for the wets turned the trick by citing a Tennessee statute providing that in order to adjourn the taking of depositions from the Virginia to the Tennessee side of the State line, a special commission from the Virginia court would be necessary. Since the new judge of the corporation court of Bristol, Va., has not yet qualified there was no one to make application to for a commission, and Magistrate Pile dismissed the proceedings upon the grounds that under the circumstances he had no jurisdiction. Counsel then adjourned to resume the taking of depositions on the Virginia side today, but without any assurance that the much-wanted witness would appear. Every possible effort will be made to entrap Detheridge if he persists in remaining out of Virginia.

BYRAN WILL LEAVE NEBRASKA FOR TEXAS

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio, July 30.—William Jennings Bryan is to move to Texas. He said so yesterday in the course of an interview preceding the delivery of his lecture. He declared he intended to move to Texas following a South American tour, on which he will start this fall.

"I am not to seek election to the Senate from Nebraska," he said. "I am not going to be a Nebraskan, for I am going to move to Texas. I expect to continue in politics in Texas."

TWO BOYS KILLED BY THE SAME HORSE

ROGALUSA, La., July 30.—The four-year-old son of A. Randolph, a well-known resident of this place, was kicked in the head by a horse and seriously injured late Wednesday. Three days ago a son of E. L. Rush, of the same age as the Randolph boy, was kicked in the head by the same horse at the same place, and instantly killed.

HARRY THAW ANSWERED MR. JEROME'S QUERIES

Old Time Enemies Brought Face to Face in the Court Room at White Plains.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 29.—Harry Thaw's fate lay in his own hands yesterday. For six hours he occupied the witness stand while District Attorney Jerome, the man who twice tried to send him to prison and who once already has thwarted an effort to release him from a criminal insane asylum, delved into his life history. Thaw emerged creditably from the ordeal. Whatever Jerome and his alienists may make of the examination, to the eye and ear of the layman Stanford White's slayer showed no signs of insanity on the stand yesterday.

Last night Thaw, the members of his family and his retinue of attorneys and experts, were unanimous in their opinion that he has proved his fitness to be at large. His friends believe that if he acquits himself in the future as well as today, Justice Mills will have no choice but to grant his application for release from Matteawan.

But Thaw's ordeal is not over. He will remain on the witness stand today and perhaps a day longer. The State's alienists believe that if he is insane he will be more likely to betray himself toward the end, when wearied by Jerome's continued hammering.

Neither Thaw nor the New York district attorney displayed anything but the utmost good nature yesterday. Frequently the dialogue resembled the chat of friends at an afternoon tea. Sometimes Thaw thought he had scored a point and smiled with the keenest enjoyment. The smile was always reflected on the face of his white-haired mother, who sat in court throughout the day with other members of the Thaw family.

Jerome yesterday strove to establish Thaw's insanity mainly on his alleged hallucinations regarding Stanford White's treatment of young girls. Time and time again he asked the witness' own opinion of his mental state. Thaw's replies in substance were: "I have always been sane, medically. When I killed White, I may have been legally insane for a few minutes. I am sane now."

Three years' confinement do not seem to have embittered Thaw. Yesterday he expressed regret for certain of the more unspeakable charges which he made in his will against the man he killed.

At times the witness scored on the district attorney so palpably that the whole court room joined in his smile of triumph.

One characteristic episode occurred when Jerome asked Thaw to explain his hostility to Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, one of the State's former alienists. Thaw said he did not know exactly why he disliked Hamilton. It was like the case of Dr. Fell, he added.

"Who is Fell?" inquired Jerome, innocently.

"Why, don't you know?" exclaimed the witness in real or feigned surprise. Then he quoted the first two lines of the nonsense rhyme:

"I do not like you, Dr. Fell,
The reason why I cannot tell."

Thaw's mood was not always jovial. One line of questions that made him knit his brows had to do with his relations with Evelyn Nesbit Thaw before their marriage. Although it has been alleged that Thaw has broken with his wife and that she is aiding the opposition, he showed a strong desire yesterday to shield her name.

Susan Merrill, the chief witness at Tuesday's session, was in court yesterday, but did not take the stand. Thaw swore that her most damaging charges against him were untrue.

KILLED WIFE'S FRIEND AND WOUNDED WIFE.

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky., July 30.—One load from the shotgun of Collier Hustin, a tenant farmer living six miles from this city, ended the life of James Talbott, Wednesday, and seriously wounded Hustin's wife, in whose company Talbott was. Hustin, according to his story to officers to whom he immediately surrendered, returned from a hunting trip to meet his wife and Talbott emerging from an adjacent wheat field. Words passed between the men, both of whom are middle-aged, and the shooting followed.

Hustin claims self-defense. Talbott was wealthy.

MME. LILLIAN NORDICA
WEDS NEW YORK BANKER.

LONDON, July 30.—Mme. Lillian Nordica, the American opera singer, was married yesterday to George W. Young, a New York banker, at King's Waigh House church, Grosvenor Square.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few friends, most of whom are well-known in American and English society.

The wedding dress of Lillian Nordica is described as one of the most beautiful ever seen. It is of priceless duchess lace over white chiffon. She did not wear a hat or veil. Her only ornament was a string of pearls.

No matter how long you have suffered, Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. Mrs. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." It will cure you. J. W. McCollum & Co.

HIGH SPRINGS.

HIGH SPRINGS, July 30.—Mrs. Geo. Glass, wife of Postmaster Glass of High Springs, and her daughter, Mrs. M. L. Thompson, have gone to New York via Clyde Line to visit their son and brother, Chas. F. Glass, U. S. Navy, at present apothecary on the U. S. S. Hancock, lying for the time at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Charlie has been very ill lately, lying in the Naval Hospital forty-nine days, but is now convalescent.

Dr. B. C. Hodges, on a trip to Baltimore, Philadelphia and Washington, reports having a fine time.

Raymond Lamb, who has been very ill for the past two weeks, is reported as being out of danger and improving satisfactorily.

If you are all run down Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. It strengthens the kidneys so they will eliminate the impurities from the blood that depress the nerves, and cause exhaustion, backache, rheumatism, and urinary irregularities, which sap the vitality. Do not delay. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy at once. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Anonymous Writers.

Sheriff Ramsey desires to say to those persons who have been mailing him anonymous communications relative to alleged violations of the law in different sections of the county, that if they will sign their names to such letters he will treat them as confidential. He cannot, however, afford to pay attention to charges preferred by persons who are not possessed of the manhood to sign their names to their letters.

Judge Bullock Decides Law Unconstitutional

The Ocala Banner of July 28th says: "Judge W. S. Bullock made a decision in chambers yesterday which will save the various counties of the State many hundreds of dollars."

"The case was one in which Davis White was suing Lake county for the usual fifty dollars paid for testimony upon which convictions are secured against 'blind tiger' operators, under an act of the Legislature of 1907."

"Attorney George W. Scofield of Inverness represented White, while Lake county was represented by Judge J. B. Gaines of Leesburg."

"Judge Bullock, after hearing the arguments of the attorneys, decided the law under which these amounts have been paid as unconstitutional, and handed down the following decision:

"In the Fifth Judicial Circuit Court, Lake County, Florida.

"Dave White vs. Lake County."

"This cause came on to be heard on argument of demurrer to the amended declaration.

"Section 16, Article 2 of the constitution of the State of Florida requires that 'each law enacted in the Legislature shall embrace but one subject and matter properly connected therewith, which subject shall be briefly expressed in the title.'"

"Section 2556 of the general statutes has no suggestion of a reward to be paid to informants or persons furnishing testimony. This feature for the first time is found in chapter 5690, laws of Florida, amending section 2556 of the general statutes."

"The title of chapter 5690 does not contain any word or sentence that would give the least information that the act contained any provision for the payment of a reward, or persons furnishing the testimony upon which a conviction could be had, nor does it contain any suggestion that the county would be required to pay testimony secured by persons in violation of the law."

cases where the reward 'cannot be collected from the person or persons who may be convicted under the provisions' of the said act. Reading this title no legislator would be put on notice that the act relative to the sale of liquors in counties or precincts voting against such sale contained any provision for the county paying a reward to persons furnishing the testimony. There is nothing 'briefly expressed in the title' that would lead to such suggestion, or upon which such legislation could be founded.

"Whether it treats of two separate and distinct subject matters, in that it treats of the sale of liquors in counties or precincts voting against such sale, and also treats of the violation of the revenue statute so as to affect its constitutionality, we need not now decide. There are many other points in the demurrer not necessary to decide, as I think the act unconstitutional, as above set out."

"It might be void for uncertainty also. Who is to determine 'the person or persons furnishing the testimony'?"

"No provision for the court determining it. Are the witnesses who are subpoenaed by the State and go before the grand jury under compulsory process, entitled to it? Are those who testify before the petit jury entitled to it? If several testify, which of these are to be paid the reward? If more than one how is it divided? Is the man who has located the 'tiger's den' and put the officers into possession of the information that secured their conviction entitled to it? Can we secure contributions on the question and pass on it? Would that be a judicial matter being determined by them? Especially when we say 'blind tiger' as is often the case."

"It is considered and ordered that the demurrer be sustained and the case dismissed."
